Preliminary Program

Application for CME credits submitted
CME credits for the Falk Symposium 188 have been applied for at the European Union of Medical Specialists (UEMS) – European Board of Gastroenterology (EBG). The number of credits awarded will be printed in the final program.
Preface

Dear Colleagues,

Inflammatory bowel diseases (IBD) are still enigmatic. Current concepts in Crohn’s disease underline the importance of innate immune factors including cellular receptors for bacterial components (like NOD receptors), autophagy and antimicrobial peptides including defensins. Thus, the epithelial layer including Paneth and absorptive cells enters central stage. In ulcerative colitis the mucus produced by goblet cells is apparently altered, suggesting that in both diseases the defective mucosal barrier allows bacterial invasion. This slow but uncontrolled mucosal infection is currently conceived as the primary trigger of these diseases.

In addition, alterations of the microbial flora have been observed but may be secondary to changes in host defence. Although the role of the adaptive immune system including T and B cells may have been overestimated, the proinflammatory action of immune and phagocytic cells has been a rewarding target for so called biological therapies. Since none of the current therapies, with the possible exception of probiotics, is targeting the likely primary barrier disease event, current concepts of pathophysiology as opposed to treatment dichotomize. It is likely that this “schizophrenia” is one of the reasons for suboptimal results in many patients.

This two day Falk Symposium in Stuttgart covers this conundrum extensively. The first day focuses on the interactions of gut microbiota with the mucosa in IBD whereas the second day covers different treatment strategies in guidelines from various countries, adverse events (often neglected) and, as one of the highlights, novel approaches to reconcile disease mechanisms and treatment.

We are looking forward to novel insights provided by an excellent faculty and to a great interactive discussion with all participants.

8.20 Welcome and Opening
E. F. Stange, Stuttgart

Session I
The gut microbiota and the mucosa in IBD

Chair: C. L. Bevins, Davis; E. F. Stange, Stuttgart

8.30 Keynote lecture
History and philosophy of IBD
G. Rogler, Zurich

8.50 State-of-the-Art lecture
An overview of gut microbiota
P. Lepage, Jouy-en-Josas

9.10 The mucosal flora: Not only E. coli
A. Darfeuille-Michaud, Clermont-Ferrand

9.30 Iron and the flora
D. Haller, Freising

9.50 The host and the flora
S. Nuding, Stuttgart

10.10 Watching the flora in IBD mucosa
R. Kiesslich, Mainz

10.30 Coffee break with poster session

Session II
The gut barrier in IBD: The first line of defence

Chair: A. Dignass, Frankfurt; G. Rogler, Zurich

10.50 State-of-the-Art lecture
Epithelial stem cell differentiation
D. E. Stange, Heidelberg

11.10 Paneth cells and other defensins
C. L. Bevins, Davis

11.30 Mucus and the goblet cells
B. G. Hansson, Malmö

11.50 Defective antibacterial barrier in IBD
J. Wehkamp, Stuttgart

12.10 Permeability and tight junctions in IBD
J. D. Söderholm, Linköping

12.30 Lunch break with poster session
Friday, June 7, 2013

Session III
The gut barrier in IBD: The second line of defence

Chair: K. Herrlinger, Hamburg; J. Schölmerich, Frankfurt

14.00 State-of-the-Art lecture
An overview of innate and adaptive cellular immunity
M. F. Neurath, Erlangen

14.20 What is wrong with granulocytes in IBD?
T. Segal, London

14.40 What is wrong with macrophages and dendritic cells?
A. Mowat, Glasgow

15.00 What is wrong with T- and B-lymphocytes?
H. Tilg, Hall/Tirol

15.20 Coffee break with poster session

Session IV
Diagnostics and prognostics in IBD

Chair: A. Stallmach, Jena; H. Tilg, Hall/Tirol

15.40 Antimicrobial antibodies
I. Dotan, Tel Aviv

16.00 Fecal markers
T. Sipponen, Helsinki

16.20 Imaging update
H. Herfarth, Chapel Hill

16.40 Endoscopy as prognostic marker
G. D’Haens, Amsterdam

17.00 End of afternoon session
Saturday, June 8, 2013

Session V
Differences between treatment guidelines in IBD
Chair: M. F. Neurath, Erlangen; M. Zeitz, Berlin

9.00 European Crohn’s and Colitis Organisation
   A. Dignass, Frankfurt

9.20 Germany
   K. Herrlinger, Hamburg

9.40 Great Britain
   C. Mowat, Dundee

10.00 USA
   S. B. Hanauer, Chicago

10.20 Japan
   T. Hibi, Tokyo

10.40 Coffee break with poster session

Session VI
Adverse events
Chair: J.-F. Colombel, Lille; S. Schreiber, Kiel

11.00 Aminosalicylates and corticosteroids
   G. A. Kullak-Ublick, Zurich

11.20 Immunosuppressants
   M. Schwab, Stuttgart

11.40 Anti-TNF
   K. Fellermann, Lübeck

12.00 Presentation of Poster Prizes
   E. F. Stange, Stuttgart

12.15 Lunch break with poster session
Session VII
Treating microbiota and/or the barrier

Chair: K. Fellermann, Lübeck; S. B. Hanauer, Chicago

13.20  State-of-the-Art lecture
       Novel treatments: What’s in the pipeline?  S. Schreiber, Kiel

13.40  Antibiotics                      C. Prantera, Rome

14.00  Probiotics                      W. Kruis, Cologne

14.20  Lecithin                        W. Stremmel, Heidelberg

14.40  Trichuris suis                  J. Schölmerich, Frankfurt

15.00  Coffee break with poster session

15.20  State-of-the-Art lecture
       Stem cell therapy in IBD?             M. Watanabe, Tokyo

15.40  Concluding remarks              A. Dignass, Frankfurt

16.00  End of afternoon session
Poster Session

Posters will be exhibited on June 7 - 8, 2013, in the Kultur- & Kongresszentrum Liederhalle Stuttgart. The authors will be in attendance during coffee and lunch breaks on both days.

Call for Posters

Please submit your poster abstract before February 28, 2013. Only one-page abstracts not exceeding 300 words, written in English and saved in Microsoft Word format will be accepted.

Abstracts must be submitted via our Internet Abstract Submission System (http://www.falkfoundation.com/poster) where further information regarding the submission format and the submission process is available.

The abstracts will be selected by the scientific organizers, preference being given to those thematically related to one of the sessions of the program.

The accepted abstracts will be printed and distributed to the participants of the congress together with the documents of the meeting.

The authors will receive notification about acceptance and further instructions in March 2013.

Contact address for further information on the poster session:

- Falk Foundation e.V.
- Leinenweberstr. 5
- 79108 Freiburg (Germany)
- Telephone: +49 (0)761/1514-0
- Telex: +49 (0)761/1514-359
- Web address for submitting poster abstracts: http://www.falkfoundation.com/poster

For the first author of an accepted poster, expenses for accommodation (June 6 – 9, 2013) and fees for the scientific program and evening activities will be covered during Falk Symposium 188. Travel expenses will not be covered.

Poster Prizes

Three prizes will be awarded for the best presentations. Prize winners will be presented with a certificate and prize money of € 1,500,-, € 1,000,- and € 500,- respectively. Travel expenses will be covered for the first author of prize winning posters.
